

19th May 2017

Dear Parents,

Whilst September might feel like many months away I am sure that the summer will fly by and with this in mind, I thought it might be helpful in your preparations for the coming teaching term to offer a little introduction to your child's new class teacher.

In September your child will be in Year 1 and taught by Lily Loveday. Lily is in her final term as a Newly Qualified Teacher (NQT) with us at Brooklands. Since joining us last September, Lily has impressed us all in the way she is making learning so much fun and stimulating for our children. Lily has become a key member of our strong team at Brooklands and together with Megan Glazin is taking part in a project with other schools in Ipswich focused on supporting children's transition from Early Years in to Year 1.

Your child will have the opportunity to attend a transition afternoon on July 5th where they will be able to meet Lily and spend time in their new classroom and find out more about the many and varied topics that your child will be learning about. There will also be time after the transition afternoon for parents to meet Lily between 3:30pm and 4:15pm.

We are also pleased that your child will have the opportunity of learning with Lily over the course of additional afternoons to further support your child's transition into Year 1.

If your child has any special educational needs Megan will be arranging with Lily to attend your child's Educational Plan review meeting in July. You will also have the opportunity to speak and share information about your child with Lily.

If you have any concerns about next term please do not hesitate in contacting me at school to discuss them.

With best wishes,

Christine Davy
